The Anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean Routledge The first single-authored comprehensive introduction to major contemporary research trends, issues, and debates on the anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean. The text provides wide and historically informed coverage of key facets of Latin American and Caribbean societies and their cultural and historical development as well as the roles of power and inequality. Cymeme Howe, Visiting Assistant Professor of Cornell University writes, "The text moves well and builds over time, paying close attention to balancing both the Caribbean and Latin America as geographic regions, Spanish and non-Spanish speaking countries, and historical and contemporary issues in the field. I found the geographic breadth to be especially impressive." Jeffrey W. Mantz of California State University, Stanislaus, notes that the contents "reflect the insights of an anthropologist who knows Latin America intimately and extensively."

Media Education in Latin America Routledge This book offers a systematic study of media education in Latin America. As spending on technological infrastructure in the region increases exponentially for educational purposes, and with national curriculums beginning to implement media related skills, this book makes a timely contribution to new debates surrounding the significance of media literacy as a citizen's right. Taking both a topical and country-based approach, authors from across Latin America present a comprehensive perspective of the region and address issues such as the political and social contexts in which media education is based, the current state of educational policies with respect to media, organizations and experiences that promote media education.

Foreign Relations of the United States Diplomatic Papers Felicidad sólida Sobre la construcción de una felicidad perdurable Caligrama Solemos pensar en la felicidad como una especie de alegría y bienestar, algo placentero y agradable. Una condición que la sociedad de consumo e individualismo en que hoy vivimos propugna que se puede alcanzar a través de la voluntad, con la sola fuerza del deseo. El actualmente llamado «pensamiento positivo» sostiene que se podría obtener con solo seguir los consejos de los innumerables manuales de autoayuda que abundan en el mercado. Sin embargo, lo que vemos son sociedades en las que el individualismo y el egocentrismo progresivamente han instalado la desconfianza y la corrupción, y donde cada vez más gente se siente sola, infeliz y frustrada. Ante esta evidencia, el destacado psiquiatra Ricardo Capponi plantea una propuesta propia —basada en los estudios científicos de la psicología cognitiva y en su experiencia profesional y personal como psicoanalista—, conducente a un cambio psíquico sólido y perdurable. Para Capponi alcanzar la felicidad no es posible sino en el encuentro íntimo con quienes nos rodean y con nuestro trabajo, espacios donde podemos desarrollar las herramientas psíquicas indispensables para elaborar nuestras emociones negativas y, con ello, lograr ese sentimiento que denominamos felicidad.

Por qué el Mindfulness es mejor que el chocolate Tu guía para la paz interior, la atención plena y la felicidad absoluta AGUILAR Una guía para principiantes en la poderosa práctica del mindfulness (concienciación o atención aplicada), ¡y sin renunciar al chocolate! Comer chocolate no garantiza que estemos pensando lo que estamos haciendo. Por eso el mindfulness siempre será un sistema más fiable para lograr la felicidad que el chocolate. La práctica de esta disciplina ayuda a reducir el estrés, mejorar el rendimiento, controlar el dolor y aumentar el bienestar. Por esta razón atletas de élite, artistas y hombres y mujeres del mundo de los negocios practican el mindfulness y se está introduciendo en las empresas de mayor éxito, bancos y escuelas de negocios, incluso en el Ejército de Estados Unidos. David Michie nos introduce en la práctica del mindfulness y nos ofrece soluciones innovadoras a los obstáculos comunes. Basándose en antiguas enseñanzas budistas y en la ciencia contemporánea, también nos lleva más allá de la práctica, ofreciéndonos instrucciones lúcidas sobre la forma de experimentar la naturaleza primigenia de nuestra propia conciencia, alcanzando un encuentro que realmente puede cambiarnos la vida. Escrito con cordialidad y buen humor, es la guía definitiva para el autodescubrimiento. Y hará que el chocolate te sepa incluso mejor! En Por qué el mindfulness es mejor que el chocolate explica a la perfección qué es el mindfulness, por qué es fundamental y, lo más importante, cómo podemos practicarlo e integrarlo en nuestras vidas. Me consta que el mindfulness puede mejorar nuestra salud y hacer que seamos más felices. Este libro ayudará a los lectores a vivir con mayor atención plena.» Dr. Timothy Sharp, The Happiness Institute «Una obra imprescindible para aquellos líderes que quieren entrenar la mente para fomentar el pensamiento estratégico.» Gary Martin, Australian Institute of Management WA «Una obra maravillosa que proporciona herramientas prácticas y ejemplos sobre el mindfulness y la meditación: impregnado de tradición, pero llevado a la vida moderna. The Architecture of Happiness Penguin UK The Architecture of Happiness is Alain de Botton's exploration of the hidden links between buildings and our well being Bestselling author Alain de Botton has written about love, travel, status and how philosophy can console us. Now he turns his attention to one of our most intense but often hidden love affairs: with our houses and their furnishings. He asks: What makes a house truly beautiful? Why are many new houses so ugly? Why do we argue so bitterly about sofas and pictures - and can differences of taste ever be satisfactorily resolved? Will minimalism make us happier than ornaments? To answer these questions and many more, de Botton looks at buildings across the world, from medieval wooden huts to modern skyscrapers; he examines sofas and cathedrals, tea sets and office complexes, and teases out a host of often surprising philosophical insights. The Architecture of Happiness will take you on a beguiling tour through the history and psychology of architecture and interior design, and will forever alter your relationship with buildings. It will change the way you look at your current home - and help you make the right decisions about your next one. 'Engaging and intelligent . . . full of splendid ideas, happily and beautifully expressed' Independent Alain de Botton was born in 1969 and is the author of non-fiction essays on themes ranging from love and travel to architecture and philosophy. Shuster, Director de Personal, LEGO Group "En La Mente del Líder, Hougaard y Carter se basan en años de investigación para demostrar que el tradicional estilo vertical de liderazgo ya no funciona. Este libro es un manual de éxito para los líderes de cualquier sector". Arianna Huffington, Fundador y CEO, Thrive Global

While objective wellbeing can be simply measured as tangible aspects of the living environment, measuring subjective wellbeing involves quantifying self-reported feelings. Although reliable and valid measures can be achieved, in a cross-cultural context differences in language and culture present formidable challenges to measurement comparability. This Element begins by describing the behaviour of subjective wellbeing in single cultures, using the theory of homeostasis. Robert A. Cummins then discusses cross-cultural differences in subjective wellbeing, with a focus on measurement invariance as a means of ensuring the validity of comparative results. Cummins proposes that the major barrier to creating such comparability of measurement is a pervasive response bias that differs between cultures. He concludes that current instruments are inadequate to provide valid cross-cultural measures of subjective wellbeing, and that suitable measures may be created as short forms of current scales. Manila City Directory Think and Grow Rich Srithi Publishers & Distributors Ever wondered how life would be if we could condition our minds to Think and Grow Rich? The light of fires. The light of stars. The light that reflects off rivers. Light that penetrates through cracks. Then there's the type of light that reflects off the skin. —Nilo Cruz, Anna in the Tropics This lush romantic drama depicts a family of cigar makers whose loves and lives are played out against the backdrop of America in the midst of the Depression. Set in Ybor City (Tampa) in 1930, Cruz imagines the catalytic effect the arrival of a new "lector" (who reads Tolstoy's Anna Karenina to the workers as they toil in the cigar factory) has on a Cuban-American family. Cruz celebrates the search for identity in a new land. "The words of Nilo Cruz waft from the stage like a scented breeze. They sparkle and prickle and swirl, enveloping those who listen in both specific place and time . . . and in timeless passions that touch us all. In Anna in the Tropics, the world premiere work he created for Coral Gables' intimate New Theatre, Cruz claims his place as a storyteller of intricate craftsmanship and poetic power."—Miami Herald Nilo Cruz is a young Cuban-American playwright whose work has been produced widely around the United States including the Public Theater (New York, NY), South Coast Repertory (Costa Mesa, CA), Magic Theatre (San Francisco, CA), Oregon Shakespeare Festival, McCarter Theater (Princeton, NJ) and New Theatre (Coral Gables, FL). His other plays include Night Train to Bolina, Two Sisters and a Piano, Hortensia and the Museum of Dreams, among others. Anna in the Tropics also won the Steinberg Award for Best New Play. Mr. Cruz teaches playwriting at Yale University and lives in New York City. Cuatro mil semanas Gestión del tiempo para mortales Editorial Planeta La vida media del ser humano es ridículamente breve: si llegas a los 80 años, habrás vivido unas 4000 semanas. Si tienes 40, solo te quedan 2000. Sin embargo, estamos obsesionados con interminables listas de tareas pendientes, buzones saturados de correos sin leer y la sensación de que nunca llegamos a todo. La mayoría de los consejos sobre gestión de tiempo fomentan la idea de que un día podremos «hacerlo todo» y convertirnos en los dueños de nuestro tiempo, totalmente optimizados y emocionalmente invencibles. Nada hay más falso que eso. Basándose en las ideas de filósofos, psicólogos y maestros espirituales antiguos y contemporáneos, Oliver Burkeman ofrece una guía entretenida y práctica para construir una vida con sentido, unos objetivos alcanzables y una apuesta por todo aquello que realmente vale la pena. «Un libro admirablemente honesto. Cuatro mil semanas es una revisión de la realidad muy necesaria sobre las suposiciones absurdas de nuestra cultura en torno al trabajo, la productividad y la vida con sentido.» MARK MANSON, autor de El sutil arte de que (casi todo) te importe una mierda «Todos sabemos que nuestro tiempo es limitado. Lo que no sabemos es que nuestro control sobre ese tiempo también es limitado. Este profundo (y a menudo hilarante) libro nos invita a replantear el culto hacia la eficiencia y reconfigurar nuestra vida en torno a lo que realmente importa.» DANIEL H. PINK, autor de La sorprendente verdad sobre qué nos motiva La vida es corta. ¿Qué piensas hacer al respecto? Solve For Happy Engineer Your Path to Joy Pan Macmillan 'He explains how even in the face of the unthinkable, happiness is still possible' - Stylist Solve for Happy is the equation for happiness. A startlingly original book about creating and maintaining happiness, written by a top Google executive with an engineer's training and fondness for thoroughly analyzing a problem. In 2001, Mo Gawdat, a remarkable thinker whose gifts had landed him top positions in half a dozen companies and who - in his spare time - had created significant wealth, realized that he was desperately unhappy. A lifelong learner, he attacked the problem as an engineer would, examining all the provable facts and scrupulously following logic. When he was finished, he had discovered the equation for enduring happiness. Ten years later, that research saved him from despair when his college-aged son, Ali - also intellectually gifted - died during routine surgery. In dealing with the loss, Mo found his mission: he would pull off the type of 'moonshot' that he and his Google [X] colleagues were always aiming for: he would help ten million people become happier by pouring his happiness principles into a book and spreading its message around the world. One of Solve for Happy's key premises is that happiness is a default state. If we shape expectations to acknowledge the full range of possible events, unhappiness is on its way to being defeated. To steer clear of unhappiness traps, we must dispel the six illusions that cloud our thinking (e.g., the illusion of time, of control, and of fear); overcome the brain's seven deadly defects (e.g., the tendency to exaggerate, label, and filter), and embrace five ultimate truths (e.g., change is real, now is real, unconditional love is real). By means of several highly original thought experiments, Mo helps readers find enduring contentment by questioning some of the most fundamental aspects of their existence. The Getty Murua Essays on the Making of Martin de Murua's "Historia General del Piru", J. Paul Getty Museum Ms. Ludwig XIII 16 Getty Publications Here is a set of essays on Historia general del Piru that discuss not only the manuscript's physical components--quires and watermarks, scripts and pigments--but also its relation to other Andean manuscripts, Inca textiles, European portraits, and Spanish sources and publication procedures. The sum is an unusually detailed and interdisciplinary analysis of the creation and fate of a historical and artistic treasure. Overview of Information Literacy Resources Worldwide UNESCO "A bibliography of print and online materials available in Albanian, Amharic, Arabic, Bengali, Bosnian, Bulgarian, Chinese, Croatian, Czech, Dutch, English, Estonian, Filipino, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hindi, Hungarian, Icelandic, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Korean, Laotian, Latvian, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Shona, Slovak, Spanish, Swedish, Thai, Turkish, Turkmen, Uzbek, and Vietnamese concerning information literacy."--Résumé de la notice dérivée. Daodejing OUP Oxford 'Of ways you may speak, but not the Perennial Way; By names you may name, but not the Perennial Name.' The best-loved of all the classical books of China and the most universally popular, the Daodejing or Classic of the Way and Life-Force is a work that defies definition. It encapsulates the main tenets of Daoism, and upholds a way of being as well as a philosophy and a religion. The dominant image is of the Way, the mysterious path through the whole cosmos modelled on the great Silver River or Milky Way that traverses the heavens. A life-giving stream, the Way gives rise to all things and holds them in her motherly embrace. It enables the individual, and society as a whole, to harmonize the disparate demands of daily life and achieve a more profound level of understanding. This new translation draws on the latest archaeological finds and brings out the word play and poetry of the original. Simple commentary accompanies the text, and the introduction provides further historical and interpretative context. ABOUT THE SERIES: For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe. Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship, providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features, including expert introductions by leading authorities, helpful notes to clarify the text, up-to-date bibliographies for further study, and much more. Poems State University of New York Press Translations (from both Galician and Spanish) of more than 100 poems by one of the outstanding poets of 19th-century Spain. De Castro's (1837-1885) poetry, often compared to that of Emily Dickinson, is characterized by an intimate lyricism, simple diction, and innovative prosody. Includes a critical introduction, notes to the translations, and two of the poet's own autobiographical prologues. Paper edition (unseen), $16.95. He also preserves the rough edges that many previous translators have sought to file down. He does not provide notes or an index. Annotation (c) Brave New World Rosetta Books Ranked as one of the 100 best English-language novels of the 20th century by the Modern Library, Brave New World is one of the first truly dystopian novels. The title's fantastic world is derived from Huxley's understanding of history and current events—including the aftermath of the Russian Revolution and World War I—and its depiction of the conflict between progress and the human spirit still resonates today. Obsession Amazoncrossing Set against the glittering backdrop of Paris, Obsession is the first in a sprawling, globe-spanning trilogy of intrigue — and the two star-crossed lovers swept up in it all. When Elisha Al-Saud and Matilde Martínez meet on a flight to Paris, they have little in common. Elisha is the rich and powerful owner of a French security company — actually a front for mercenary and espionage services — while Matilde is a pediatric surgeon from Argentina whose only dream is to work in Africa helping children in need. Despite their differences — and their current relationships — an undeniable attraction swallows them whole, driving them into a whirlwind romance and irreversibly intertwining their devastating secrets and placing them at the center of an explosive international conflict. Even if they manage to survive, will their love? Flow The Classic Work on how to Achieve Happiness Random House What really makes people glad to be alive?
