

Contents

vol 1:4

66

Opportunities for Participation and Innovation - learning from Primary Schools

John Waldron RIBA takes a look at how creative and collaborative smaller scale interventions are making a big difference to primary schools in the UK and abroad.

LEARNING SPACES

Learning Spaces is an independent magazine. The views expressed in signed articles do not necessarily represent those of the magazine. The magazine cannot accept any responsibility for products and services advertised within it.

Publisher

Howard Sharron

Editors

Gareth Long & Sharon Wright

info@the-learning-crowd.com
www.the-learning-crowd.com

DESIGN MANAGER: Devinder Sonsana

FOR ADVERTISING:

Cabbell Group,
Wimbledon Studios, 1 Deer Park Road,
London SW19 3TL
Fax: 020 8544 0811
Web: www.cabbell.co.uk

Editorial Office

Learning Spaces is published by Imaginative Minds Ltd,
309 Scott House House,
Gibb Street, Birmingham, B9 4DT
Tel: 0121 224 7599
Fax: 0121 224 7598

Email: howard@imaginativeminds.co.uk
Website: www.teachingtimes.com

© Imaginative Minds 2013 ISSN 2043-6904
No part of this publication may be reproduced, copied or transmitted in any form or by any means without the express permission of the publisher.

Regulars

01 Editorial

Featured Articles

06 Learning to live with your new school

When the Aldridge Foundation built a new Academy in Brighton to replace an existing crumbling school, it had an unexpected impact on the students and local community as Honor Wilson-Fletcher MBE explains.

28

52

60

12 Do It Yourself!

Andrew Siddall tells us how parent-power in one community has made a huge difference to the future of a primary school playspace.

20 Changing Cultures by Changing Spaces

Lauren Ponder, Head of English at William Edwards School in Grays, Essex, describes how a training session in school, led by education change makers 'Suklaa', transformed teaching and learning in her classroom.

28 Meeting the school places challenge

Steve Loughe on how ARK Schools, London Borough of Ealing and BAM have worked together to create a brand new primary school which delivers for its local community.

38 Building Projects – Heaven or Hell?

Living through BSF – Sister Anne-Marie Niblock, Headteacher of Notre Dame Girls R.C. School in the London Borough of Southwark recalls living through a new BSF project.

45 Why good learning environments still matter

With current debates about how best to spend capital funding, Rachel Jones explains why carefully investing in the learning environment – physical and virtual – still makes educational sense.

49 BIM for Schools – why?

The government have set targets for the adoption of BIM across all publicly funded projects by 2016. Education and Justice are pathfinder departments. Helen Taylor asks what is BIM and why should schools care about it?

52 The Third Teacher+

Christian Long of the Chicago based The Third Teacher+ education design consultancy describes how they challenge and plan for the future of learning and the environments that it may need.

60 What do you want in your outdoor space?

As the need for more school places sees the outdoor areas in many schools squeezed to provide temporary accommodation, Juno Hollyhock gives some advice on how to get more from the space you have.

74 Wright & Wright architects

Wright and Wright give an architect's perspective on the importance of developing research and seeking out expert advice during the design process; including engagement with the users; and showing how comparisons can be drawn from existing experience and schools in operation.