

Cover Story

Cover Story Lesson Study – Towards collaborative CPD

The Japanese concept of Lesson Study is experiencing a significant boost in popularity in the UK – but why? David Weston explores the benefits of this powerful approach to professional development.

p37

REGULARS

Editorial 1

A legitimate clash over performance-related pay

Points 4

Ofsted introducing new, tougher inspections for early years settings; heads encouraged to take up posts in struggling schools; national programme to prepare existing school staff to achieve qualified teacher status is launched; and more.

Trends 8

Were critics right about the new spelling, punctuation and grammar tests?

Report Update 11

Our regular digest of important new documents and studies for school teachers.

FEATURES

Going global 16

Every school has the responsibility to promote the importance of citizenship. John Dowler considers how schools can make global citizenship relevant, accessible and most importantly, fun for all students.

Strategies for effective differentiation 22

Differentiation is probably the most important thing teachers ever have to do. Marcella McCarthy provides some advice on getting it right every time.

Creating a success culture in your school 30

Paul Trainor looks at some practical ways leaders from every level can help develop a positive, success-focused school culture.

Observing classrooms – A powerful shift in emphasis 42

How can we enhance the learning going on in our classrooms? Alison Peacock explains why so many schools across the UK are turning to Lesson Study to answer this fundamental question.

The Children and Families Bill – What will it mean for SENCos? 48

Jonathan Fawcett discusses the obstacles the standard SENCo should expect to face as the government's planned changes to SEN policy filter down into practice.

Steps to achieving sustainable ICT 52

Steve Bellamy examines the potential of asset management in schools to reconcile increased spending on technology with the need to save money in the long run.

PRIMARY FILE

Are you ready for Shakespeare Week? 58

Next March will bring the first ever national Shakespeare Week. Elizabeth Dollimore explains how to get involved.

Evaluating EYFS provision 65

Sue Lyle details a four-stage evaluation process which she hopes will provide the insight into children's learning experiences that EYFS practitioners require to fully meet their students' needs.

Manager's Briefcase – Observation and evaluation in the early years 71

A set of pro formas to help early years practitioners determine the impact existing provision is having on their students, and what they can do to improve it.

Editorial Office

Editor
Howard Sharron

PRODUCTION EDITOR
Maisie Gould

DESIGN MANAGER
Devinder Sonsana

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT
0121 224 7590/91

MARKETING DEPARTMENT
0121 224 7580

CUSTOMER SERVICES
0121 224 7599

Company registration number 02445043
© School Leadership Today 2013
ISSN 2040-1310

No part of this publication may be reproduced, copied or transmitted in any form or by any means.

School Leadership Today is an independent magazine. The views expressed in signed articles do not necessarily represent those of the magazine.

The magazine cannot accept any responsibility for products and services advertised within it.

Contact us
School Leadership Today is published by Imaginative Minds, 309 Scott House, Gibb Street, Birmingham, B9 4DT

- Tel. 0121 224 7599
- Fax. 0121 224 7598
- www.teachingtimes.com