

Cover Story

Cover Story How good are your teachers?

It can often be difficult to pinpoint the exact definition of a good teacher, let alone work out whether your own teaching standards match up to it. Heather Clements has a way.

p57

REGULARS

Editorial	1
Why shouldn't governors be paid?
Points	4
Campaigners argue for internet safety to be taught extensively in all schools; Academy commission reveals increasing trends of admissions manipulation, and more.
Trends	8
Are schools hoarding money at the expense of our children's education? Plus, with Michael Gove's recent u-turn on the EBacc, we discuss how he could have gotten it so wrong in the first place.
Report Update	14
Our regular digest of important new documents and studies for school teachers.

FEATURES

Why aren't boys reading?	18
Jane Woodley examines the reasons behind the international problem of boys achieving lower than girls in reading... and it's by no means biological.
Forget everything and run	27
What can teachers do to cope with the negative, results driven environment our schools have become? Chris Watkins faces the fear.
Becoming a stand out school	32
Head teacher Andrew Morrish explains how his school is taking a new approach towards teaching and learning strategies, where teachers progressively become more and more invisible in order to help their pupils become independent, confident learners who stand out from the rest.
Motivating A-Level students	40
Unfortunately for A-Level teachers, not all of their students are mature, self motivated and well behaved. Marcella McCarthy highlights a few problems KS5 teachers must face and offers some practical solutions.

Time for an alternative curriculum 50

Michael Reiss and John White propose an aims based curriculum – a ground-breaking alternative to the current restrictive subjects-based model founded upon the overarching aims of education.

CPD for busy teachers 62

Glenys Hart explains how teachers can embrace the world of technology, and continue their professional development without even leaving the classroom.

How to trust others to take the lead 68

Professor Christopher Day investigates the relationship between trust and distributed leadership, and demonstrates its importance in improving schools.

Avoiding the pitfalls of performance related pay 77

With performance related near at hand, it is vital for staff morale and productivity that all schools develop a rigorous and transparent approach to performance appraisal. Keith Wright advises.

SEN students dumped on TAs 82

The IOE's most recent report on the inclusion and education of students with statements of SEN revealed a number of alarming practices in today's mainstream classrooms. Maisie Gould reports.

PRIMARY FILE

Proposed changes to the Primary National Curriculum 88

England has fallen in the rankings of educational performance in reading, mathematics and science, recent comparisons with other high-performing jurisdictions have revealed. We summarise the proposed changes to the national curriculum which Gove believes will restore vigour to our children's education and raise out international ranking.

The right to go 90

Nothing is more embarrassing or distressing for a child than wetting or soiling themselves in school. Eileen Jacques outlines a few ways schools can work together with parents to support a child suffering from incontinence.

Resisting the red pen 94

Alison Wilcox explains how she expanded the focus from eliminating errors in creative writing to include more linguistic experimentation and freedom, and managed to inspire even the most reluctant of young writers.

Manager's Briefcase 101

The SENCo/TA partnership

18

40

62

90

Editorial Office

Editor
 Howard Sharron

PRODUCTION EDITOR
 Maisie Gould

DESIGN MANAGER
 Devinder Sonsana

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT
 0121 224 7590/91

MARKETING DEPARTMENT
 0121 224 7580

CUSTOMER SERVICES
 0121 224 7599

Company registration number 02445043
 © School Leadership Today 2013
 ISSN 2040-1310

No part of this publication may be reproduced, copied or transmitted in any form or by any means.

School Leadership Today is an independent magazine. The views expressed in signed articles do not necessarily represent those of the magazine.

The magazine cannot accept any responsibility for products and services advertised within it.

Contact us
 School Leadership Today is published by Imaginative Minds, 309 Scott House, Gibb Street, Birmingham, B9 4AA

■ Tel. 0121 224 7599
 ■ Fax. 0121 224 7598
 ■ www.teachingtimes.com