

Cover Story

Cover Story Setting the British standard?

New Teachers' Standards are calling upon teachers to act as advocates of British culture in the classroom, but in a rich and diverse society is it possible to define a clear set of 'British values'? Hazel Bryan asks whether it will be possible to measure this new standard. p34

REGULARS

Editorial 1

Teaching Standards: A question of values

Points 4

Great expectations for supply teachers as permanent hires are put on hold; Ministers launch a fresh crackdown on the culprits of rising truancy in primary schools; summer holidays no longer compensate for the extra hours teachers are taking on, and more.

Trends 8

Will government interventions cause a staffing crisis in primary schools? Plus, with GCSE and A Level results in, there's no better time to reflect on whether your school's revision strategies are in need of an overhaul.

Report Update 14

Our regular digest of important new documents and studies for school teachers.

FEATURES

Academies in the balance 19

Russell Hobby urges schools to carefully weigh up the pros and cons of academy conversion and provides reassurance for those left standing alone in a sea of academies.

Cut loose from convention 26

Bob Drew inspires with his commendable decision to drive forward his dream of building a learning focused school community.

40

Losing faith in conversion 40

Is the academies' programme actually driving a wedge between schools? Katie Paxton-Doggett investigates whether a harmonious chain, comprised of faith and non-faith schools, can ever exist.

Swimming against the tide 48

The destiny of a failing school was turned around with the holistic and moral vision of one head teacher who bravely turned her focus away from targets and testing.

The VLE evaluation 56

In today's market the VLE options are extensive, so finding the right one for your school may seem daunting. Andy Kemp provides a thoroughly researched overview of the market's main competitors.

Preparing for life after care 66

Young people in care and care leavers are being empowered to take control of their own destinies for the first time. Marcella Phelan reports on the inspiring work of the Horizons Centre in Ealing.

Primary File 73

In this issue's Primary File we see innovation in one school's approach to teaching literacy, and hear of several schools' experiences of global collaboration. Plus, a review of David George's book: Young Gifted and Bored, and a Leadership Guide to Ofsted 2012, provided by School Improvement Services Ltd in Manager's Briefcase.

48

56

66

74

82

Editorial Office

Editor
 Howard Sharron

PRODUCTION EDITOR
 Sally Connolly

DESIGN MANAGER
 Devinder Sonsana

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT
 0121 224 7590/91

MARKETING DEPARTMENT
 0121 224 7580

CUSTOMER SERVICES
 0121 224 7599

Company registration number 02445043
 © School Leadership Today 2012
 ISSN 2040-1310

No part of this publication may be reproduced, copied or transmitted in any form or by any means.

School Leadership Today is an independent magazine. The views expressed in signed articles do not necessarily represent those of the magazine.

The magazine cannot accept any responsibility for products and services advertised within it.

Contact us
 School Leadership Today is published by Imaginative Minds, 309 Scott House, Gibb Street, Birmingham, B9 4AA

■ Tel. 0121 224 7599
 ■ Fax. 0121 224 7598
 ■ www.teachingtimes.com